PRICE OF FLOUR IS RAISED HERE

Increase of 60 Cents per Barrel. Result of Recent Wholesale Jump

Effect of the rise in the wholesale price of flour, which took place at the leading wholesale centers some weeks ago, is now being felt here, with a raise of 60 cents per barrel in retail prices. Few buy flour by the barrel, however, but others will be affected by the advance in the price of sack flour. It has gone up, with the last two or three weeks, 15 cents per sack. Average brands now sell for $1.38 and $2.35 per sack. The wholesale market continues to advance, and no prospects for a drop in the retail price can be seen here. Eggs continue to drop and have now reached a low mark of 27 cents a dozen. Last week they brought from 35 to 45 cents a dozen. Butter remains stationary in price, selling for 32, 33, 34 and 35 cents a pound. Head lettuce has advanced 5 cents, and now costs 15 and 20 cents per head. A new shipment was received at local stores Friday morning, some over and the large and fresh new heads are well worth the advanced price.

Apple Season Over.
A new and the last shipment of apples for the season came into the city the middle of the week. The prices remain the same as they have been all fall and winter, and will probably not change, even when they become more scarce. It has been a good apple season, growers declare, and large quantities have been sold. The quality of them has been exceptionally good this winter, and prices have been moderate.

Few of the new southern fruits, that may not be seen here in any quantity until summer, are now obtainable. Fresh strawberries came in from the south several weeks ago, but the price was almost prohibitive, 75 cents a quart. They are sold now as a novelty and a luxury. New cabbage at 8 cents a pound, is a great improvement over the old, and is especially good at this time of year for salads, tasting almost like lettuce, it is so tender and fresh.

Various Vegetables.
Other novelties seen in grocery store windows are pineapples, selling for 20 and 25 cents each, fresh rhubarb, raised in Mukwonago, Ill., and which is selling in enormous quantities in this city, at 25 and 30 cents a pound, now carrots at 13 and 15 cents a bunch, shivers at 13 cents a plant, spinach 15 cents a bunch, and Mexican onions, 15 cents a pound.

Oranges, lemons and bananas, besides the large number of items in the vegetable market, are the same in price. Oranges are 40, 50 and 60 cents a dozen, grapefruit, 2, 3 and 4 for a quarter, lemons, 40 cents a dozen, bananas, 12 and 14 cents a pound, large green peppers, 8 cents each, green onions, 10 cents a bunch, celery, 15 and 18 cents a large stalk, leaf lettuce, 35 cents a pound, coconuts, 10 and 20 cents each, cranberries, 25-40 cents a pound and potatoes, 35 and 40 cents a peck.

IOLA FARMER NAMED UNIVERSITY REGENT
Madison.—Franklin A. Nace, Iola, was appointed a member of the university of Wisconsin board of regents by Gov. J. J. Blaine Friday, to succeed Granville D. Jones, Wausau, for the term ending Feb. 1, 1925. Mr. Nace is a practical farmer.

Tax-Dodging Flat Owner Is Handed Dose of Own Doce

Chicago.—A landlord who acquired the habit of boosting his rent so often that he received more money every year than his building cost, has received a dose of his own medicine in a tax increase of 24 per cent assessed against him.

Judge Harry M. Walker of municipal court learned of the rent jumps through a case in court and instigated an investigation which brought the tax increase.

The landlord had a 12 flat building valued at $9,300 in the tax reports—an average of $775 for each flat. The rental from these flats, however, averaged $1,300 a year for each flat. The landlord's taxes last year were $355.54, on two buildings.

The tax board, after taking a look at the size of the landlord's receipts from the flat, assessed the tax, placed a tax value of $46,000 on the building and assessed the landlord $1,723.14 instead of $355.54 for this year's taxes.

He decided to raise the money for the equipment, arrangements are then made for the purchase of the equipment. If the money is to be placed in the next tax budget in October to be collected in January, the equipment may be secured with the understanding that the bills will be paid at that time. Should the people vote against the proposition, the council could appropriate the money regardless of the result of the vote, he said. Other plans may be offered, however, as a solution to the problem, which will allow the board to get the equipment in at the earliest possible time, following completion of the building. Orders for equipment, according to architects, should be placed at least five months in advance of the time needed.

$75,000 for Equipment.
Estimates of the board are that the equipment will cost approximately $75,000. Estimates on different portions of the equipment as secured by Supt. Frank Holt are as follows: Laboratory tables and equipment, no estimate; gymnasium equipment, $6,000; manual training, $10,000; lockers, $4,500; blackboards, $2,500; stage equipment, $1,200; clocks, buzzers, alarms and telephones, $7,500. Included also is the cafeteria equipment and window shades for which no estimates are at hand.

Board members are apparently in favor of securing the desks, laboratory equipment, blackboards and other equipment, which will allow the students to move into the building. Purchase of cafeteria equipment and manual training department may be postponed a year if necessary, if deemed necessary.

Present at the meeting were President Jesse Earle, E. J. Haumerson, Charles Muggleton, Mrs. David Holmes, Mrs. Fred Sutherland and O. A. Oestreich.

Appropriating $10,000.
Before acting on the resolutions accepting the bids for the work, the board passed another in, according with the agreement with the city council, setting $10,000 from the general school fund to the new high school fund. This was necessary before the board could legally accept the bids, there not being sufficient money on hand to cover the cost.

Some savings may be made in the contracts through substitution of materials and elimination. There are several alternatives in the plumbing bid some of which may be accepted, which will cut the cost.

Inspector E. P. Craig reported that progress on the new high school building would probably pick up rapidly within the next week if the weather is warm enough to allow bricklayers. Three of the giant cranes over the auditorium have been put in place. As soon as warm weather is here, a large number of men will be employed to lay brick. Mr. Craig said, and greater progress will then be made than could be done in the winter.

Work Must Be Rushed.
The quick completion of the building depends on the co-operation of the contractors, some work of one contractor cannot be completed until a certain stage in the work is reached in another department, so it remains for all to rush the work, Mr. Craig said.

phases of the words "United States government." Under the constitution the government was divided into three parts—legislative, executive and judicial. I firmly believe neither the executive nor the legislative wants to encroach on the other. I know that the interpretation which is placed upon the duties of the presidential office differ from time to time. A man like President Harding may have one idea and Mr. Wilson might have another. I am not looking at the question from the personal viewpoint for these differing conceptions may rise to trouble America long after we of the present generation are dead.

Gives Case in Point.
"Suppose, for instance, that 10 or 15 years hence, Russia has been restored and encroached on the northern half of the island of Sakhalin, now claimed by Japan. What does Japan do? She calls a conference of powers under the terms of the four power treaty. The preamble of the treaty says its purpose is to 'maintain' the rights of Great Britain, France, Japan, and the United States in relation to their insular possessions and dominions. It says in relation to which of course is broad enough to cover such an aggression as Russia might start toward the Sakhalin island. Now Japan's rights in that island are a matter of dispute to day. Yet article two of the four power treaty requires a conference of powers whenever aggression by an outside power develops over 'said rights.' It doesn't define what 'said rights' may be and if we do not now say that we have the right to determine for ourselves whether those rights are valid or invalid, we may be in the position of having acquiesced in them.

"But when a conference is called, it is obvious from the language of this treaty that the purpose of the conference is to 'arrive at an understanding or an adjustment.' What actually happens? A delegate or ambassador represents the United States at that conference. An agreement is reached. Since Sakhalin is an island, the only means of protecting it is by navy or by economic boycott of the offending power.

Might Mean Sudden War.
Now it may develop that the public sentiment of America is against war with Russia, or that we of this country do not believe Japan has a right to the island in question. What I want to prevent is some American president getting up and saying that an agreement has been reached, under the terms of a treaty ratified by the United States senate, whereby the most efficient means of maintaining the rights covered by the treaty. With the immense powers which the executive has of ordering warships to any quarter of the globe—and sailing orders are usually and properly secret—we may wake up and find ourselves on the threshold of war without a voice as to whether we want to commit ourselves to war. It is said that all this is understood in the language of the treaty but we who read English and are familiar with our own constitutional system may be in agreement about it but I want everybody in Japan and Russia and elsewhere in the world to understand that congress has absolute freedom of action and that the ratification of this treaty doesn't put on us any moral or legal obligation as to what we shall do in the future when confronted with the question of maintaining anybody's rights in the Pacific."

Would Remove Doubts.
Mr. Brandegee believes President Harding himself holds the same view about the rights and powers of congress and probably feels that the reservations are unnecessary because he himself would surely consult congress and would, in advance of making any serious move, find out whether or not congress approved. But with the ever growing power of the executive, men like Senator Brandegee believe it would remove at once any doubts in the minds of foreign governments if, into the four-power treaty, were written a specific reservation showing that congress is the final authority when anything involving the use of force is contemplated. European governments have their own quick remedy when their prime minister or foreign secretary in the midst of a negotiation does something which the people do not like. Overnight a ministry can be overthrown. Recently Premier Briand was forced out of power in the midst of a treaty negotiation which his parliament did not approve. Under the American system, there is no immediate check on the executive if he chooses to ignore congress. That why the Brandegee reservation may be regarded as almost a constitutional development designed to give the people a greater voice in foreign affairs.

At the Theatres

Playing to an audience that gave them repeated generous applause, the Deval School Boys' band won its way into the hearts of Janesville theatre-goers at the Myers Thursday night. They presented a colorful and varied program, with singular ease.

They rendered heavy pieces with finesse of expression and harmony of blending. They gave the lighter airs with the characteristic vigor of youth. In O'Connell's overture, "Orpheus," they held the large audience utterly enraptured. In this more than in any other of the seven numbers, they excelled. Deval Robinson's baritone solo, "The Special," by Brooks, showed the lad already has mastered much of the technique of his instrument. Deval should be proud of his boys' band and its conductor, Oscar E. F. Kluck.

The program consisted of:
 1. March—"The Special."
 2. Overture—"Orpheus."
 3. Solo—"The Special."
 4. March—"The Special."
 5. Serenade—"The Special."
 6. Selection—"Bohemian Girl."
 7. March—"On Wisconsin."

Leavening Strength Tells the Story
 The price you pay for baking powder doesn't determine the results you will have on bake day. It's the leavening strength that counts. And you may buy a baking powder for less than Calumet which you are practicing economy. Don't be misled—the baking you spoil will make those that are successful exorbitant in cost.

CALUMET BAKING POWDER

has successfully proven, during the past thirty years, that it contains more than the ordinary leavening strength. That's why bakers where it is employed never fail to raise properly. Calumet is used by more housewives, leading chefs, domestic scientists, restaurants, hotels and railroads than any other brand. Millions buy it—you should try it. A pound can of Calumet contains full 16 oz. Some baking powders come in 12 oz. cans instead of 16 oz. cans. Be sure you get a pound when you want it.

Profit and Loss

"Confound that fellow Blinks! He just can't get over the idea that everybody is out to 'do' him." Of course you have heard this remark. The super-suspicious individual soon becomes a marked man, although he seldom realizes it. People refrain from telling him things it would profit him to know, because of his offensively skeptical attitude. They avoid doing him favors for fear their motives may be distorted.

Reasonable prudence is a valuable asset. But it is an open question if the suspicious monomaniac does not suffer greater material loss in the long run—to say nothing of mental waste—than the man on the other extreme who is known to all as a "sucker." There is quite a difference between faith and credulity.

VERY SPECIAL

For FRIDAY and SATURDAY I am showing in my window, articles at a price that is sure to interest you. Be sure and see them.

Controversy Between Authors Shatters England's Faith in Spiritualism, Claim.

A knock-out blow to spiritualism in England is promised as a result of the quarrel between two noted authors, now being unraveled before the public in a series of furious letters. Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, the champion of the spirit world, and Filson Young, the challenger, have charged each other with public charges of credulity against Conan Doyle and his co-religionists. Sir Arthur's first reply to Filson Young has been: "The only credulity shown by any of the company was our believing that you were a gentleman."

COMMITTEE WILL SEEK FARM UNITY

Organizations at Variance Over Details of Program in State.

(By Associated Press.)
Madison.—The farmers' cooperative associations of Wisconsin, which have been meeting here in an effort to agree on a uniform plan of organization and a general program of extension, were unable to settle on any arrangement acceptable for all, the state department of markets announced.

Edward Nordman, commissioner of markets, was named by the farmers' associations to select a committee of three who are to make further attempt to settle the points of difference existing between the various organizations. He intends to select Theodore Juchin, professor of agricultural economics at the College of Agriculture, and E. C. Tommerberg, president of the Equity society, who will meet with him.

Organizations represented at the conference were the Equity society, the Farm Bureau federation, the Wisconsin Dairywomen's association, the Wisconsin Milk Producers' federation, the College of Agriculture and the state department of markets.

The state department of markets will start with the small local cooperative organization, and then extend as the local units are built up, into a federation of local cooperatives, which will be the basis of a general management of the local cooperative organizations as well as of the federations, is essence of success.

It is said most of the organizations represented at the conference were agreed on this general method of extending the cooperative movement in Wisconsin, but that the disagreement arose over the plan of organization sought to be finally developed. The department of markets opposed the scheme which would tend to bring money of control to the dairy farmers, as impractical.

A later conference is to be called by the Equity society to consider the problem of cooperative buying on the part of farmers. It is felt that benefits can accrue through extension of the cooperative organization as well as through cooperative selling of products.

BELOIT COLLEGE DEAN OF WOMEN SPEAKS AT MEET

Chicago.—Seventy per cent of the time of a dean of women should be devoted to administrative and advisory duties and the remaining 30 per cent should be devoted to equality between academic work and social relationships. Mrs. G. W. Tamm, dean of women at Beloit college, told the National Association of Deans of Women here Friday. The social duties, she said, include "endeavoring to bring into normal social relationships the young women who are working for room and board in town homes and the shy girl who needs drawing out; and, most important of all, perhaps, developing and guiding a distinctive social life among the women students which is not dependent on the men of the college."

JAILBIRD'S CLUES BRING NO RESULTS

Detroit Story on Taylor Murder Leads Police in Blind Paths.

(By Associated Press.)
Los Angeles.—Growing disbelief in the story of the murder of William D. Taylor, film director, here, Feb. 1, related in Detroit within the last three days by Harry M. Fields, in custody there, was expressed early Friday by Los Angeles officials.

They pointed out two changes made in his original story. One was the reduction of a $1,000 bill to a $100 bill in connection with his statement that he was paid $1,000 for having drawn a Chinese man to the Taylor apartments.

No Pistol Found
The other was his changing the location where he said the pistol with which Taylor was shot would be found. The officers said they found it at neither place he named. A bank teller was found here, however, who told of a man entering a bank and acting "suspiciously" with a $1,000 bill, about the time Taylor was slain.

Also Thomas Green, deputy United States District attorney here, was quoted as having stated a man he believed was Taylor, had sought his aid a year ago in stamping out the drug traffic. This was a partial proof of Fields' statement that the film director was killed because of his alleged interference with the drug traffic.

Fail to Find Suspects
The officers learned also that a Chinese named Wong Lee, who was said to be the man whom Fields said was that of the Chinese in the alleged murder party, had left Los Angeles China town three days ago while it was still incriminated. Fields might have important information concerning the case. They said, however, they had nothing to connect Wong Lee with the Taylor murder.

Fields had said the Chinese in his party went east with him. The officers said they were unable to learn anything of the whereabouts of Wong Lee, whom Fields named as the man who shot Taylor. They said they had no information concerning the whereabouts of the Chinese in his party.

PLAYER PIANO IS LATEST MOONSHINE TANK IN SALOONS

Madison.—Repositories for moonshine are taking new and more diversified forms in Wisconsin since prohibition enforcement has been rigidly applied. W. Stanley Smith, prohibition commissioner, reports.

The newest "rinkie" in the way of liquor safety-deposit vaults has been found to be the player piano. State agents operating in the northern part of the state say that on entering a saloon they were unsuccessful in finding evidence against the proprietor until attempt was made to start up his mechanically operated piano.

The result of this experiment was several fullens of moonshine and a still. Arrest of the proprietor followed. This discovery stands with the one by E. C. Parker, deputy commissioner, who located a still and moonshine in the top of a pine tree located in the property of a Kentuckian in Forest county.

TWO BREWERIES IN WISCONSIN CLOSED

Permits for Near-Beer Denied Racine and Prairie du Chien Firms.

(By Associated Press.)
Milwaukee.—Two Wisconsin breweries have been closed and four more will be closed by the federal prohibition office at Washington for alleged manufacture of beer of illegal strength.

Notice that permits to manufacture near-beer had been denied the Racine Brewing company, Racine, and the Prairie du Chien Brewing company, Prairie du Chien, has been received by Edgar N. Reed, assistant federal prohibition director for Wisconsin.

The denial of permits means that the companies must cease making near-beer immediately. Mr. Reed announced four other breweries would be denied permits for 1922.

The Chicago company is defendant in a civil action begun recently by Arthur J. Bartlett, special assistant attorney general. Mr. Bartlett was granted temporary injunction by Judge P. A. Gilson, restraining the company from manufacturing beer having an alcoholic content of more than one half of one percent. The company consented to the injunction until the trial of the law suit.

Bradley-Lay Recital Best of the Year

With the appearance of Miss Ruth Bradley, pianist, and Joel Lay, baritone, at the Congregational church Thursday night, the zenith of the brilliant musical season, Janesville has enjoyed this winter, was reached.

Both Miss Bradley and Mr. Lay have been here before, having played and sung at a recital at the Norman Carle home recently, so that many present knew what to expect, while others who had heard of their excellence, were expecting a great deal, and were not disappointed.

From the first note, even from the first glance at Miss Bradley, the audience was captured by her grace and beauty, and from then on by her marvellous playing. No less an impression was made by Mr. Lay with his clear, strong voice, so well trained that he was perfectly at ease when singing.

In the first group of pieces by Miss Bradley, three Chopin numbers were played. The movement of her arms and fingers was fascinating to watch, and the earnestness with which she played made even those in the audience tense.

Miss Bradley's second group consisted of selections from "Auld Scots" by her former teacher, Goossens.

Mr. Lay's first number was the aria from "Erodiade" by Massenet. From his first tone, his talent was easily seen, and his resounding climaxes filled even the large auditorium.

Credit for getting the two artists to appear here, despite all of its 26 months, was all too short, is due Mrs. Mark Bostwick, who was personally acquainted with both.

Be Careful What You Wash Your Hair With

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is Mulsified coconut oil shampoo, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap and beats anything else all to pieces. You can get Mulsified at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Two or three teaspoonfuls of Mulsified in a cup of glass with a little warm water is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, shiny, wavy, and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff. Be sure your druggist gives you Mulsified.

IMPROVE RECORDS OF WATER PLANT

Maps to Be Made Showing Complete Details of Underground System.

In conjunction with the aid of the city engineering department, the water department is now compiling complete records and maps showing the location of every water main, all the hydrants, and every shut-off valve in the city's system. This is the first time that has been done since the city took over the plant in 1914, the need of which has been especially emphasized since the big development which began in 1915. At one time last year two men spent two days digging on Garfield avenue before they could find a gate, there being no records available showing its exact location.

For six years Supt. H. A. Griffer has been compiling data as fast as he could gather it. This material, together with that of the engineering department, will now be put in one book and on maps, and when changes and additions are made in the future they will be recorded.

"By getting this material in shape we believe the next report of the national board of underground utilities on this will say 'records excellent,' instead of 'records fair,' as they have said in former years," said Mr. Griffer. "This statement in regard to our records in the past has not alluded to the financial records, merely the lack of pipe and gate location data." The report is expected to bring out that there are some 200 shut-off gates in the system of water mains, many of which have been added the past three years. There are 354 hydrants.

"Y" Doing Big Work Abroad, Says Parker

The American Y. M. C. A. is still doing a great work in European countries and is still a big need, according to George S. Parker, Janesville manufacturer, in a letter from Venice, Italy, to C. V. Hibbard, New York, associate general secretary of the international committee of the Y. M. C. A.

"While in Geneva I had the opportunity of meeting both Mr. Goss and Mr. Berry, in fact, traveled from Paris to Geneva with Mr. Goss," Mr. Parker says in his letter. "I was greatly interested in the work they are doing in Europe and the results they seem to be attaining."

"I want to tell you something," before I left home I was of the opinion the "Y" had practically ceased to function as a real working organization directed in foreign fields by Americans. I learned through the above of the extent, at least to some measure, that great work is still done and that the work is needed."

"I am just wondering if there are not many in America like myself who think the 'Y' has ceased its activities in European countries."
